FOREWORD

It is a matter of joy, unique honour and rare a privilege for me to write the Foreword to the debut of Ambrose Alli University Journal of Medical Research (AAUJMR) at this time. I heartily congratulate the Editorial board, the Dean, Dr H. O. Otamere, the Heads of Department and the entire Faculty of Basic Medical Sciences of Ambrose Alli University College of Medicine for this epochal academic feat.

The AAUJMR is a scholarly Journal that aims to illuminate the minds of the readers with basic, concise and rewarding medical scientific research information. The first edition contains excellent peer-reviewed scientific articles in experimental medicine and public health delivered in a succinct masterpiece. The AAUJMR is good for academics and even students in medicine and allied professions.

I enjoin the Editors to ensure that future improved editions are published as at when due. It is my pleasure to recommend the AAUJMR to all those in the world of medical science who quest for knowledge.
